

Nearly 300 UMD Sophomores Must Apply for Upper Division

NEARLY 300 UMD sophomores are becoming eligible and must apply for admission to the newly-created Upper Division in which they will complete their junior and senior years, Robert J. Falk, assistant director of the Office of Student Personnel Services, announced yesterday.

The Upper-Lower Division organizational pattern was approved by the faculty to take effect with the 1956-1958 bulletin, and thus will involve every student entering UMD during and after Fall Quarter of 1956, Mr. Falk explained.

BEGINNING AT ONCE, every four-year degree candidate nearing completion of a minimum of 84 credits with a minimum C average—including all general education requirements and major and minor prerequisites—must apply for Upper Division admission.

Application for admission will have to be made during the first four weeks of the quarter in which the sophomore expects to earn his 84th credit, the UMD office added. Any student unable to establish an average of at least C and unable to complete both his general education requirements and meet his major and minor course prerequisites by the time he has completed 105 credits will be requested to leave the University, Mr. Falk warned. Some of these students may, however, be eligible to receive the Associate in Arts degree.

PROCEDURE FOR APPLICATION FOR ADMISSION TO THE UPPER DIVISION IS AS FOLLOWS:

1. Report to the Upper-Lower Division clerk, Mrs. Betty Gillespie, in Admissions and Records, Room 130, Kirby Student center.
2. Attend special Upper Division orientation meetings, schedules for which will be given out by Mrs. Gillespie at the time of the original admission application contact.
3. Complete, in triplicate form, a program planning work sheet listing all courses already taken or for which the student is then registered. This work sheet will list courses in major and minor fields, those taken to meet general education requirements and those taken as electives.
4. With the assistance of an assigned adviser, complete also on this program planning work sheet a complete program for both the junior and senior years.
5. File the worksheet—signed by the student, his major adviser, the head of the major department, the head of the minor department, and the Upper Division clerk—with Admissions and Records. Candidates for the Bachelor of Science degree also must obtain the

Sidney Survey Shows UMD Students Unaware of Activities of Commission

Mr. Gil Sidney, Student Commissioner, recently conducted an informal survey of some 200 members of the Student Body in an attempt to discover the efficiency and degree of representation of the Student Commission. The results of his survey were read to the Student Commission Grass Roots Meeting, Tuesday, March 4, 1958.

WHEN QUESTIONED AS TO WHY HE CONDUCTED HIS SURVEY, Mr. Sidney replied, "Attending commission meetings has become an obligation for me. I do not feel as though we (Student Commissioners) are accomplishing what the students expect of us, because we, as Commissioners, do not know what the student body desires of the Commission. In fact, many of the students are unaware that such a group exists. Some of those who have heard of the Student Commission were totally ignorant of the fact that Dick Miller is president of that body. Several students had trouble understanding exactly what a Student Commission is, and only when I compared it to a High School Student Council, did they have any notion of its function. Others found it hard to believe that such a group is entrusted with spending thousands of dollars."

Mr. Sidney was then asked what he thought to be the cause of this deplorable situation.

"There is on this campus, a phenomena known to some as apathy; to others as lethargy. It is regrettable that the student body should have such an attitude towards the Student commission, but in view of the fact that they do, I feel obligated as a student, as a commissioner, as an individual, to see that something is done about it. I have prepared an open letter to the students which I will submit to the Statesman. I also feel that I have an obligation to point out the shortcomings of the Student commission. I have prepared a report to be submitted to the Student Commission Grass Roots meeting.

What effect do you believe your report to the Commission will have?

"As things stand now, the Student commission is in danger of losing faculty recognition. I sincerely hope that a better understanding of and interest in the Commission will result from the Grass Roots Meeting. If the commission is at fault, I hope that they will make a move to correct any possible faults they may have. Perhaps a better system of communications between the Commission and the student body can be established. The Student commission should represent the students and try to comply with their wishes."

Is the Commission aware of the student body's ignorance of commission affairs?

"I can't say."

Why hasn't the Commission conducted a survey?

"I don't know. They have been very busy lately."

CAMPUS POLICY?—NSA Commissioner Gil Sidney surveys student opinion or the lack of student opinion concerning commission efficiency and progress. Mr. Sidney's resultant report has been released in the form of an open letter to student body. (See page 2.)

"Bird Dog Paradise" Carnival End Drive With Dance, Funbooths Tomorrow Night

THE CAMPUS CHEST DRIVE will come to its climax tomorrow night, when a dance, "Bird Dog's Paradise," and the Campus Chest Carnival will be held. These events, originally scheduled for tonight have been changed to Saturday because of the UMD-St. Cloud state basketball game.

"Bird Dog's Paradise" will begin at 9:30 in the KSC ballroom and last until 1:00, while the carnival, downstairs in the lounge will be in progress from 9 to 12. Max Raver's band will provide the musical background for the dance, which is sponsored by the Panhellenic council. The highlight of the night will occur during the intermission of the dance when one of six candidates will be crowned "Mr. Bird Dog." The votes consist of a penny each, which has been contributed to the Campus Chest Drive. Contestants are Paul Kent, sponsored by Beta Phi Kappa; Young Jin Kim, sponsored by UMD-Y club; Ed Timera, Gamma Omicron Beta; Jon Sampson, M club; Bill Pretner, Sigma Psi Gamma; and John A. Rupkalvis, KUMD. Last year Dave Michaud, sponsored by Beta Phi Kappa, fittingly reigned as "Mr. Bird Dog for '57."

THE CARNIVAL WILL CONSIST OF FUN BOOTHS, sponsored by campus organizations. Among them are spectacular activities of last year's carnival, the kissing booth; the pie-throwing contest; Kirby Union, which sent messages via special messenger; and the taxi service, which employed little red wagons as taxis for hire. This year's carnival, according to Campus Chest chairman Ken Cayo, promises not to let down the Campus Chest Carnival tradition of fun.

Two participation trophies will be awarded at the dance. One is for the organization selling the most Campus Chest tags, and the other for the organization selling the most carnival tickets.

MONEY RECEIVED FOR THESE ACTIVITIES, as from all Campus Chest activities this year, goes to the World University Service and the Emergency Loan Fund. Cayo says of the drive, "It has been very successful so far. I wish to express my sincere thanks to all those who helped the Campus Chest Drive in any way. The money received will help students both at UMD and abroad."

Federal Scholarships

NSA Reviews Aid Program

THE UNITED STATES CONGRESS has prepared a resume of legislation pending before the sub-committee which is studying Federal Aid to Education, and has released the copy to the United States National Student Association (USNSA) for student approval. The proposed legislation falls into three major areas: Federal scholarship aid to students; tax credit and tax deductions for education expenses; and federal loan funds or loan insurance.

The legislation has been reviewed by NSA, and information dispersed to member campuses. Interested students have been urged to send expressions of approval or disapproval to their district congressmen. The comments may be sent in the form of a petition or personal letter.

A SUMMARY OF THE PROPOSED LEGISLATION IS AS FOLLOWS:

Approval of the one billion dollar program of Federal Aid to Education recommended by President Eisenhower and Secretary Folsom has been given. The program includes 200 million dollars for federal scholarships. USNSA urges support of this proposal by Congress, educational, civic, religious, labor, and business organizations. Because 200,000 able students a year do

Are Federal Scholarships Plausible?

On many issues, we, as Americans, have discussed, to great length, how we would do things if we were given the opportunity. Now the tide has turned; we can do something about our national legislation.

Congress has asked us, as students of today and as parents of the students of tomorrow, to voice our opinions on the pending legislation on education which the Second Session of the 85th Congress is now considering.

The final action taken by this session of congress will affect us directly as students and as parents. The time has come when we must no longer sit back and expect our Congressmen and Representatives to decide, alone, the things which we desire. We have the inalienable right and obligation to assist our political officers in making decisions which affect us. Let us not wait until the final action has been taken and then we assemble over a cup of coffee or around a discussion table to criticize that action, instead, we can defend the action because we would have had a part in the making of the decision. We have carried on enough discussion—now we must act, and ACT FAST. TALK IS OF MANY—ACTION IS OF FEW. Let us join the group of the "few."

Your United States National Student Association (USNSA) will testify before the House and Senate Committees considering federal scholarships and aid programs for students. Independent action by you will greatly strengthen the meaning of USNSA's work in this area.

The principal bills in each of these areas are summarized below.

EISENHOWER-FOLSOM PROGRAM: (S. 3163; H.R. 10278; and H.R. 10279)

Provide for:

1. 10,000 scholarships a year for undergraduates; average grant $750; no restriction on course of study.
2. Grants for expansion of graduate schools up to $125,000 a year for an institution; university could elect an alternative grant of $500 for each graduate fellow, with a preference for those interested in teaching in higher education.
3. $150 million annually to the states to expand and improve science and mathematical instruction in public secondary schools.
4. Establishment of foreign language institutes and scholarships, providing the recipients will be available for teaching a foreign language in an institution of higher learning.

5. Grants to states to improve guidance and counselling programs.

HILL-ELLIOTT PROPOSAL: (S. 3187 and H.R. 10381)

Provide for:

1. 40,000 scholarships a year for students; $1,000 grants; special consideration to students with superior capacity and preparation in science, mathematics or modern foreign language . . .
2. $40 million to be made available in loans annually, in amounts not exceeding $1,000; repayable in 10 years at 2% interest; if borrower becomes full-time teacher, the loan will be cancelled at 20% for each year of teaching.
3. $25 million for work-study programs on matching basis with institution for needy students (undergraduates); restrictions same as in paragraph 1 of this bill
4. 1,000 graduate fellowships for students who are preparing to become teachers. (Raised 1,500 annually for five years).

SCHOLARSHIPS:

HUMPHREY (D-Minn.)—S. 869: provide for: to establish a program of scholarship aid and long-term loans to students in higher education, and to provide facilities assistance to institutions of higher education.

TAX RELIEF:

A. Tax Deduction:

S. 433—Fulbright (D-Ark.)—to allow students who are also taxpayers to deduct tuition, fees, books and supplies necessary to the course of instruction. (No deduction for room and board.)

B. TAX CREDIT:

S. 872—Humphrey (D-Minn.)—to allow a credit equal to 30% of the total paid to institutions of higher education as tuition and fees, maximum credit of $450 per taxable year.

WHAT ACTION SHOULD YOU TAKE? Study the bills very closely—"Action Without Study Is Fatal, Study Without Action Is Futile"—and write to your Congressman notifying him of your recommendations.

If you need more information or assistance contact your USNSA Commissioner.

Review

Thorne, Reed Team Termed Success

The sounds emanating from UMD's main auditorium Tuesday night ushered in what we like to call the "student product" season, and left the Muses, the nine beautiful daughters of Zeus, who inspire literature, science, and the arts, smiling in satisfaction at the finished product.

Usually the "student product" season is a time of year in an institution's calendar of events when the instructor is given the opportunity to exhibit his labors in molding and guiding a promising student to the "reviewing board" after four years of "toil and trouble." The Reviewing Board is made up for the most part of members of the community, the faculty and the student body.

It is almost impossible for a college student to not see at least one of these senior recitals during his four-year course of study, and usually when you've seen one, you've seen them all. But such was not the case Tuesday night when Russell Thorne, Alice Craig and John Reed combined their talents and filled the auditorium with strange, hypnotic, yet pleasing to the ear with strange and hypnotic music and poetic narration during the Senior Recital program opening up the 1958 season.

The literary and cultural climate of UMD was given new "life" with this combined effort of 3 of its students, and gave notice that there are other aspects of college life going on on this campus besides the worn-down, worn-out record dances at KSC and some political mumble-jumble over the advent of a competitive newspaper to the Statesman.

FORUM

AN OPEN LETTER TO THE STUDENT BODY:

For some time, I, as a student, a commissioner, and an individual have been dissatisfied with the student government program on this campus. In an attempt to change this attitude, I conducted a very informal survey of some 200 plus students on this campus. The question asked during this survey was very basic in nature, at least this is the way it appeared to me. The question was "What are your feelings toward the Student Commission and do you feel that it has benefited you as a student on this campus?"

It was found, surprisingly enough, that some of the students I contacted did not know what the student commission was, much less what it had done. Still worse, some of the students were sophomores and juniors who started out as freshmen here at UMD. Further, it was found that some of the students did not know the name of the president of their Student Commission—and those that knew him associated him with some of their classes or other activities in which he participates. As for the names of the commissioners, the results were in the form of questions of their identities or a very emphatic "UGH."

If this seems hard for you to believe, then I challenge you to answer the following basic questions:

1. What are the functions of your Student Commission?
2. When, where and how often does it meet?
3. Did you know that the meetings were open to all students? If so, how many have you attended during the current term?
4. Did you know that the Commission received money from your incidental fees? If so, do you know how much?
5. Did you know that Student Commission minutes are posted in KSC and on third floor of Old Main? If so, do you read them?
6. Did you know that you spent some $600 to send five students to represent you at the National Student Association Congress last summer?
7. Do you know what and how many social events are sponsored for you with your money?
8. Did you know that you lost a considerable sum of money on the Homecoming activities last fall?

I don't ask you these questions to make you appear stupid, but rather to point out that unless you can answer all of these questions, you are not a part of the student commission and the Student Commission does not, in fact, represent you. It is held that Student Government should be similar to the meaning of the words contained in the last paragraph of Mr. Lincoln's Gettysburg Address: " . . . that government for the people, by the people, of the people . . ." Does it have to be spelled out that the "people" must continue to participate after they have completed an election?

I know, for a fact, that information leading to the answers of all the above questions have been released either through the "Statesman" and/or through the minutes of the Commission. Possibly, the main reason why it is not known is because of our own neglect. Even while writing this letter, I have a feeling that the students who should read it will be the ones who will not. (The big question is, How to we educate students such as these to educate themselves?)

I strongly recommend that:

1. If we, as students at UMD want to keep the Student Commission as a spokesman for the student body, we had better take a more active interest in its activities.
2. We, as students, have an obligation to see to it that each commissioner discharges the responsibilities of his position.
3. We, as students, must place demands on the Student Commission and each commissioner to ensure that what is being done will benefit the students at UMD .

It is obvious that my recommendations suggest action to be taken by the student body only. The student body elects each commissioner—or more appropriately a portion of the student body—thus forming for itself a commission. I was elected by this portion of the student body, but, I regret to say, I do not feel that I have fulfilled the expectations of my office nor do I feel that the Commission has fulfilled its expectations. Viewing myself as a commissioner, from the standpoint of a student voter, I must submit that there are several reasons why this has not been accomplished:

1. There are very few students who will work on committees, and those that consent to work give up after several meetings because they don't feel they should carry the load for the rest of the students.
2. Some students feel, and I share their feelings, that gaining recognition over the nation and world should be secondary to helping our own students.
3. Some students hold the misconception that one goes to college to learn from a book those things which will prepare him to cope with life's problems. (To this person, I say, most if not all social books are obsolete when they leave the press.)

In conclusion, I would say that the principles of Student Government are very, very good but only to those students that employ them and make the best of them. We are very fortunate to have such an organization on our campus, we all will agree with this I am sure, but how many will agree to work in order to keep it here?

THE INVESTIGATION INTO Un-UMD activities seems to have taken a definite note of realism. A surprising crowd of spectators attended the investigations and excellent press coverage has been given to the event by the Statesman. In fact, there are even "cranks" calling and threatening members of the investigating committee. The callers obviously are not members of the "Slime" staff, but they do add humor to the proceedings.

There seems to be some misunderstanding regarding the purpose of the investigation. It is not a prosecution and no attempt is being made to incriminate any individuals. The entire investigation is aimed at uncovering activities that are below the standards expected from UMD students. The only results from the investigations will be legislation introduced into the class session of the House of Representatives.

* * *

ANOTHER INTERESTING ITEM in passing is the reaction of the Statesman to my last column which appeared two weeks ago and dwelt with the policies of the UMD Publications board. Last week the Statesman devoted a full page to "refuting" my arguments. As one person commented, "The Statesman not only took a full page, they needed it!"

While this is unquestionably inaccurate, the issue does point to a general misunderstanding that exists between Pub Board members and some UMD students, including me. This misunderstanding is two fold: first, the use of the term censure is being used in different contexts, and second, the original purpose of the Pub Board is not clearly understood.

THE ONLY POINT that I wish to make is that I feel that the students, since they are forced to support the Statesman, should have some means of expression in the determination of editorial policy.

The end of the Winter quarter always brings the beginning of a new and important period in the school year. With all-school elections scheduled for next quarter, everyone should feel an obligation to attempt to find qualified people to fill the vacancies in student positions on campus.

NO MATTER what an individual's views regarding student governing positions might be, the fact that student government does exist must be admitted. The fact that student government also has some power must also be admitted for, if nothing else, these fourteen students do spend about ten thousand dollars during the year.

The net result is that every student should be concerned with the individuals who will fill these posts. This means that every attempt must be made to find qualified people to fill these jobs and qualified people should feel a responsibility to offer their services for the improvement of student life at UMD.

MANY PEOPLE FIND AMPLE OPPORTUNITY to criticize student government during the year. Now how many of these same people will do something about it?

Committee Investigates

Booing, Stealing and Printing "Fit Crud"

"DOES THE STATEMENT 'All the crud that's fit to print' constitute a desirable goal for a university publication?" "Does the unauthorized removal of books from the library constitute a crime?" "Do you know or have you heard of violations of university regulations taking place in KSC?" "Does the 'booing' at UMD athletic events constitute a serious problem?"

These questions were included in the cross-examinations that took place before the Un-UMD Activities investigation last Monday in the KSC ballroom. The investigation was conducted by a special committee of the House of Representatives, fifth session, of the Political Science 55 legislation class.

TESTIFYING IN THE FIRST DAY'S INVESTIGATION were Mr. Robert Falk, assistant director of OSPS; Mr. Ole Wendfeldt, campus roundsman; Ruth Kent, Publications board chairman; Sandie Weinberg, Statesman editor and former Social Events chairman for KSC; Gary Cowan and Douglas Smith.

Topics being investigated were the booing at athletic events, bussing dishes in the cafeteria, misuse of KSC facilities, book stealing from the library, and the MUD Slime Sentinel.

RESULTS OF THE INVESTIGATION at the end of Monday's session indicated that the booing at athletic events and the bussing dishes in the cafeteria, ous problems. Witnesses questioned regarding the MUD Slime Sentinel agreed that the publication did serve some constructive purposes, but both Mr. Falk and Miss Kent agreed that in its present form the publication probably would not receive approval as an official campus publication. No preliminary conclusions were reached regarding the stealing of books or the misuse of KSC facilities.

Approximately a hundred persons attended the public hearing and crowd sentiment appeared to be against the investigating team.

CROSS - EXAMINATION BY THE INVESTIGATORS was kept in a legal and equitable plane as personal incriminations were not sought or made. Witness counsel Rod Bastie was quick to object to unfair questions and procedures on the part of the committee.

A humorous note was injected into the proceedings when Douglas Smith and his counsels, Neil Landry and John Kalbrenner, brought a briefcase of evidence forward which was handcuffed to Karin Kelly. The committee refused to accept the evidence on grounds that it was not germane to the issue.

A SECOND INVESTIGATING SESSION was held Thursday afternoon in the KSC ballroom.

Duluth Light Opera Company Will Cast Production of Gilbert & Sullivan's 'Princess Ida'

October, 1958, seems far enough in the future to make most of us feel that we can postpone making plans for it now. But not so for the Duluth Light Opera company. As has been their custom for the past several years, they will start work now in anticipation of their annual operetta in October. This year's choice, another Gilbert and Sullivan gem, finds Gilbert's sparkling wit poking fun at the education of women. Princess Ida, one of the lesser known, but highly rewarding operettas from a musical standpoint, has been selected for performance. It is not frequently performed, by amateur groups particularly, because of its difficult staging, its more intricate music and large cast—12 principals, 2 lesser parts and a chorus. The audience is promised a musical feast with magnificent choruses, a great deal of pageantry and a wonderful strain of humor, typical of the composers. Already three sponsors—St. Paul's Episcopal church, Glen Avon Presbyterian church and the Nurses' Alumnae association of St. Luke's hospital—have prepared to set committees to work on their part in this annual production.

Before rehearsals may begin, however, comes the ever-important ANNUAL AUDITION for cast members in an effort to uncover new talent in our area. Anyone 18 years of age or over is eligible to try out for the company and no previous operetta experience is necessary. All the prospective singer needs do is come to St. Paul's Episcopal church auditorium (17th avenue East and Superior street) on Sunday, March 9, between the hours of 3 and 5 p.m. or on Tuesday, March 11, between 7 and 9 p.m. prepared to sing for the auditioning committee. He should bring his own music but an accompanist will be available for his use. Anyone unable to come on Sunday, March 9, or Tuesday, March 11, may call Mrs. R. H. Nelson at RA 4-7221 and arrange for an audition at another time.

A new board of governors of the Duluth Light Opera company has been named with Dr. Joseph Leek serving as chairman and Mrs. Ralph Marsden as secretary; other board members are Harry Dack, Edward R. Gruber, A. D. Ludden, Thevor Pollock, Richard E. Stewart, Jr., and Mrs. Thomas Sturgeon. George Finch continues as business manager and Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Nelson as stage and music directors, respectively.

Applications for the position of Statesman Editor will be accepted until next week by either Robert Falk, OSPS, or Ruth Kent, Publications Board president.

Requirements include 3 quarters attendance at UMD, and a 1.0 average. Some experience in any phase of the journalistic field is also necessary. Next week is final deadline.

signature of the head of either secondary education or elementary education for admission to professional education courses.

"Once the worksheets have been filed with Admissions and Records, they will be considered a contract between the student and the University for completion of degree requirements," Mr. Falk pointed out. "One copy will be retained by the student, one by the adviser and one will be placed in the student's personal folder in the Office of Student Personnel Services."

"Any changes in that contract between student and University thereafter will require filing of a program planning amendment form, which must bear the approval of the student's adviser."

The OSPS official advised all students now in the four-year degree curriculum who either are completing their 84th credit Winter quarter or are registered for their 84th credit for the Spring quarter to contact Mrs. Gillespie after the start of Spring Quarter to begin the Upper Division admission process.

The orientation meetings will be conducted under the direction of Mr. Falk and Franklin Page, vocational counselor in the Office of Student Personnel Services.

Students classified as freshmen and sophomores will hereafter be considered Lower Division students.

"The thing that it will be important for students to remember—and that includes all UMD students—is that admission to the Upper Division will not be automatic," Mr. Falk continued. "It will take action on the part of the student, and within a rather narrow time limit, to achieve such admission and go on to junior and senior status."

Fox-Movietone Crew Views UMD Winter Sport Activity

A Fox-Movietone News camera crew will be on the UMD campus next Monday afternoon to take several sequences in a color Cinemascope short on winter fun involving university students at Madison and Duluth.

Tom McMorrow, New York City, F-MN sports editor, drew up the shooting schedule after conferences with a Duluth committee assisting in arrangements.

After a visit to the UMD campus, he indicated that the birches and pines on the lower campus would provide an especially effective background for one scene.

He also indicated interest in the "dog sled" races which have become a traditional attraction of annual Sno-week, this year renamed "Schneefest."

An inter-fraternity broomball game, ice-boating, skating, skiing, and pole-sledding are other activities involving UMD students included in the advance script.

Campus arrangements are being coordinated by Len Skrobel, Schneefest general chairman; David Zentner, UMD student public relations commissioner, and Clarence Anderson, University Relations representative.

Anderson is a member of the city-wide committee assisting in setting up activities for the cameramen's visit. Bob Burke, Duluth Pony Football league head who was instrumental in bringing the Fox-Movietone people to Duluth to cover a league championship game two years ago, heads the committee.

The UMD representatives invited all students interested to be on hand on the lower campus Monday afternoon for the filming. Various settings to be announced will be used for the filming Tuesday.

Off the Cuff

IT'S A REAL PLEASURE to go to a formal dance and not feel that we are attending a waiters' convention.

New styles in formal wear have caught on, and the man with a madras cummerbund and matching tie is no longer a freak. Even the jacquard patterned sets promise to be popular.

Those who are shopping for a tuxedo would be smart to look into the lightweight navy blue silks or wools. These may be a little too light going to and coming from a winter dance, but they'll be comfortable on the dance floor. You'll look as unruffled when the band plays "Good Night, Sweetheart" as you did during dinner.

Several of the coming weekends will be spent in dressier clothes than we use for everyday. If you plan your weekend around the metropolitan areas, remember a suit. The campus sport ensembles are great around the campus, but we are all on display when taking off for a big weekend.

If we're going to be dressy, we might as well consider all sides of the question. There's a softer look in suits, with fabrics such as cashmere, and unfinished worsteds seen in well-dressed circles. Colors are more in the dusk and twilight hues as opposed to the formally popular midnight blues and charcoal colors.

With suits like these, the good old oxford cloth shirts are a little casual. We don't need to swing clear over to silk shirts, but a happy medium is found in lustrous broadcloth. Another good fabric is Pebble Weave. It has a subtle textured appearance, with a softness and lustre all its own. Patternwise, stripes range in widths from candy to hairline. Notable among these is the arrow Ripple Stripe series. Naturally the dressiest of the group are the stripes on a white background, though they do some with colored backgrounds. But, if you're going to be dressy, you might as well be good and dressy. Save colored shirts for the old grey flannel suit.

Speaking of colored shirts, what can be done with those old numbers from a couple of years ago? We have a yellow one, a pink one and even an olive one, and they all look like last year! Who says men's styles don't change? We're beginning to understand what a girl means when she looks at a closet full of clothes, and announces she hasn't a thing to wear. We have a drawer full of shirts in those colors, and wouldn't wear them to a dogfight. Anybody got an idea?

We discovered something interesting the other day. The girls are crazy about Tab collars. We all know that the shorter point is the rage now, but it was news to find that the girls can get excited about a collar style. Didn't think they knew a Glen from a Gordon. Anyway, they say that the Tab collar makes us look just like an Arrow collar man . . . and there's your cue.

Placement, Part-time Job Registration With Bureau

The Placement Bureau has announced that students who plan upon graduation from the University during the present academic year are advised to register for placement with the bureau.

There will be posted announcement of companies conducting employment interviews on the bulletin boards in front of Room 140 KSC. Bachelor of Arts graduates are advised that the bulletin boards are the only way the Placement Bureau has of notification of last minute additions to the schedule or other changes.

Registration for part-time jobs is also accepted. The bureau advises that this be done at the beginning of each quarter.

Bachelor of Science graduates may receive more extensive information concerning the area of teacher placement from the March Newsletter. However, any teaching graduate or alumni who plans on using Placement Bureau facilities should complete or reactivate their credential file immediately.

Mathematical Wizard Lectures Here

(UMD-NS) — Albert Einstein's chief assistant at the Institute of Advanced Study at Princeton will be on the UMD campus March 10.

He is John G. Kemeny, chairman of the Dartmouth college mathematics department, who assisted Einstein in the latter 1940's.

A native of Budapest, Hungary, Professor Kemeny came to the U. S. before the war.

The 31-year-old mathematical wizard will appear under auspices of the Mathematics Association of America in cooperation with the National Science Foundation.

Coordinator for his UMD visit is John E. Hafstrom, assistant professor of mathematics and acting head of the UMD department of mathematics and engineering.

The UMD chapter of Sigma Xi, honorary science research fraternity, is assisting in local arrangements.

Special invitations to hear the visiting lecturer are being sent to northern Minnesota high school mathematics students and instructors, Professor Hafstrom said.

Professor Kemeny went to Dartmouth from Princeton in 1954. Besides a full professorship in the mathematics department, he holds a professorship in Dartmouth's department of philosophy.

He received the Ph.D. from Princeton university in 1949 after having completed his undergraduate work there.

While in his teens, Professor Kemeny served with the U. S. Army during World War II as a mathematician attached to the Los Alamos atomic bomb project.

In the past three years he has published two books and is presently writing or co-writing five more.

He will address a general convocation, open free to the public, at 10:30 a.m. in the Science auditorium, which has a seating capacity of 400 persons.

His convocation subject will be "Creation of a Branch of Mathematics," in which he will explain at a popular level of understanding how a whole branch of mathematics can be developed from a commonplace figure.

He will address an informal meeting sponsored by Sigma Xi at 4 p.m. in Science building room 150 on "Applications of Mathematics to the Social Sciences."

New Speech Course Offers Viewing of "Prestige Movies"

By Len Skrobel

An opportunity for students to view "prestige movies" of cultural and artistic value, and to receive 3 credits in Speech has been developed with the addition of Speech No. 8 to the Speech department's curriculum. The course will be offered for the first time during spring quarter.

William R. Morgan, assistant professor of speech, will teach the new course, "The Art of the Theatre." Students enrolled in the course will meet on Mondays and Fridays at 11:00-11:50, in room 310 for the lecture portion, and will attend six showings of art films at 7:30 p.m. Wednesdays in the Science auditorium, beginning April 9. These films will also be open to the public at 25 cents admission.

They include the French films "Mr. Hulot's Holiday," "Children of Paradise," "Orpheus," the Italian film "La Strada," the Soviet film "Ivan the Terrible," and the Swedish film, "Miss Julie."

The final three films in the course will be more specialized in nature—The Italian opera film, "Iy Trovatore," the German film "Three-Penny Opera," and the Soviet color film, "Ballet of Romeo and Juliet." They have been chosen for their special value to the course, Professor Morgan notes.

English subtitles are included in all of the films. Exemplifying various phases and forms in the development of the theatre throughout the world, the films will include examples of theatricalism, surrealism, musical comedy, musical drama, ballet, and opera.

They will show how the theatre arts integrate many individual arts, skills and crafts.

Dr. Morgan reports that there still is room for more students to enroll in the course, but advises prompt action to assure entrance into the class.

The course is also open to adult special students.

UMD Debaters Win Over Wisc.

UMD debaters won a 3-0 decision over a team from Wisconsin State college, Superior, debating before the student-faculty assembly Tuesday morning (March 4). UMD debated the negative side on the proposition, "RESOLVED, that the requirement of membership in a labor organization as a condition of employment should be illegal." The debate was judged by three Superior faculty members representing the fields of history, educational psychology and speech.

James Bernard, senior, and Sherman Gonyea, junior, were the UMD negative team. The Superior affirmative team was Richard Medenwalt, Laonoa, Wis., senior and math major, and Charles Anderson, Grantsburg, Wis., senior and art major.

Bulldogs Play Tonight for Right to Play in NAIA

(UMD-NS) — The MIAC title safely tucked away, UMD's Bulldogs are preparing for their playoff game with St. Cloud, champions of the State Teachers College Conference, at 8 p.m. Friday, March 7, in the Minneapolis Armory.

A win will give the Bulldogs the right to represent the Minnesota area in the NAIA small college tournament at Kansas City starting March 10.

Coach Norm Olson's charges will wind up their regular season Saturday, March 1, when they invade St. John's at Collegeville. UMD opened its conference schedule with a 78-61 victory over St. John's early in the season at Duluth.

Since then, the Bulldogs have compiled a 14-1 conference record while St. John's has won only two conference games. St. Cloud will present UMD with some stiff competition when the two teams meet March 7 at the Minneapolis Armory. The Peds hold season victories over three MIAC teams—Augsburg, St. John's and St. Thomas of the MIAC.

The second place team in the Peds' conference is Moorhead State, which defeated UMD 80-67, a week ago in a game UMD played mostly with reserves. Against St. Cloud, the Bulldogs will present their high scoring, fast-breaking offense and tight, sagging defense. UMD averages five men in double figures every game and has one of the best defenses in the conference. A large following of fans is expected, as the Bulldogs compete for the right to enter the NAIA tourney next Friday.

UMD's record to date is as follows:

Northland	105-48
St. John's	78-61
Bemidji	73-70
Hamline	58-53
Superior State	88-86
Superior State	95-80
Augsburg	86-72
St. Mary's	78-58
Macalester	84-66
Gustavus	71-73
Concordia	79-77
St. Thomas	64-58
Hamline	69-68
Augsburg	76-71
St. Mary's	90-83
Macalester	92-70
Gustavus	86-67
Moorhead	67-80
Concordia	88-58
St. Thomas	91-67

WAA News

By Marietta Brower

A definite schedule for spring quarter activities will be set up at the WAA general meeting next quarter. The activities will include softball, golf, archery, tennis, bowling, and other sports the members want to engage in.

Plans will also be made for the annual cabin party usually held the latter part of May, and the State Play Day which will be held at the University of Minnesota this spring.

All students interested in any of the spring activities and other events are urged to check the bulletin board in the Women's Phy Ed locker room for details.

The Aquatics club, under the direction of Dr. Bownes, will meet at the beginning of Spring Quarter to make plans for club activities. All girls who can swim (you don't need to be an expert) are urged to contact the advisor or an officer for details.

Stark Directs Bulldogs Past Johnnies

By BOB HARPER

Under the capable direction of assistant coach Tom Stark, the champion Bulldogs added another victory to their string and closed their regular season with 19 wins and 2 defeats at St. John's Saturday night. The Bulldogs kept their driving game under "wraps," and for the benefit of the St. Cloud Scouts were content to score from outside the key. It was an easy victory for UMD as coach Stark went most of the distance with his reserves. The referees had a busy night on their whistles, calling 50 personals: 27 on the Johnnies and 23 on the Bulldogs. UMD piled up their lead by free-throws, scoring on 33 of 46 gift tosses while the Jays hit 26 of 34. The champs shaded St. John's in the field goal department 27 to 24.

Reserve-forward Darryl Faille and "Harry" Bergstedt paced the Bulldogs to their 10th straight MIAC victory as they shared scoring honors with 17 points each. "Harry" needed the 17 to boost his average to an even 10 points. All five of the starters are now scoring in double figures.

Aided by Bergstedt and Faille, Bob Monson's soft one-handers from 25 to 30 feet sparked the Bulldogs to a comfortable 52-31 half-time lead.

The Johnnies caught fire after the intermission and with 9:05 left had chopped the Bulldogs' lead to 8 points.

Bergstedt answered with a 5-point spurt and from then on the outcome was certain. As the final buzzer sounded the Bulldogs went to the showers on the long end of an 87-74 count.

Tonight coach Norm Olson and his conference champs invade Minneapolis Armory to tangle with St. Cloud State Teachers. The winner will advance to the NAIA tournament opening March 10 at Kansas City.

BASKETBALL—Freshman Guard Tom Stone, the ballhawking reserve, is a possible starter for tonight's playoff game with St. Cloud due to co-captain Bob Monson's illness. Tom hit his peak in the Gustavus game when Jon Sampson picked up 4 quick fouls.

LAST CHANCE for a pre-final holiday. Everyone's migrating to Minneapolis to witness the UMD-St. Cloud war. See you there spurring our Bulldogs on.

Bulldog Bark

By Jim LeBorious

In last week's issue of the Statesman, a letter from Mr. David Zenter, a senior from Duluth, appeared in this column. It was signed "David Zenter, Athletic Commissioner." In apologies to all concerned, Mr. Zenter is commissioner of Public relations, whereas, Gene Laulunen is athletic commissioner. Sorry, fellows.

Tonight, along with a few hundred other Bulldog boosters (I hope) I'll be sitting in the Minneapolis Armory watching Norm Olson's charges tangle with the St. Cloud five. Though it would not be possible for me to go to Kansas City I sure hope 15 very deserving fellows from a Duluth school will make the trip.

A Report on the "Regina Twins"

By Don Romano

If you have seen the determined offensive charge of Elmer Schwartz or the slow, deliberate style of Harvey Flaman you have seen UMD's two greatest players in action.

For the past three years they have given their best to the hockey cause on our campus. A broken skate, injured wrist or the common cold has failed to stop their attempts at making hockey a winning cause at UMD.

It is not a coincidence that the growth of hockey at UMD and the enrollment of Harvey and Elmer should parallel each other.

The boys are natives of Regina, Canada. They played their hockey with the famed "Pats" organization and in the fall of 1955 they decided to give college a try.

It was fortunate for everyone interested in hockey at UMD that the boys picked this campus for a college education.

In the space of three short seasons, they have set every possible scoring record established at UMD.

Flaman has the total scoring mark of 152 points. His assists total 79, and his goals 73. In one season he received 32 assists and had a total of 56 points.

Schwartz has most of the conference marks to his credit. His 98 total points, 49 total goals in 1957 and 21 assists this year are all records. Thirty-four goals in the 1957 season set the all-game goals scoring mark.

Throughout their career the mention of anticipated defeat prior to a game was considered unlawful.

"We have a chance to win against any team on our schedule," commented Flaman. This motto, verbally seconded by Schwartz, has now become team law.

Their hockey knowhow, daring style of play, and supreme will to win has led UMD to 35 successive conference wins and beyond the reach of the MIAC. It has silenced critics' comments concerning team ability by proving we can hold our own against the best in the country.

Their pioneer efforts will long be remembered as the Maroon and Gold continue to build on the strong foundation set for them.

Duluth, with its college, is returning as one of the hockey centers of the nation. Two big reasons for this are:

"Goal by 19—Schwartz, assist from 13—Flaman."

Pucksters Fall to Lakers in Closer

By Jim LeBorious

In their last game of the 1958 hockey season, the UMD Bulldogs fell to an older, more experienced Warroad sextet by a score of 6-5.

With less than two minutes to play in the final chapter, wing Ray Manson of the Lakers fired a shot that got past the Bulldog goalie. The Bulldogs pressed the Lakers in the final 60 seconds but the defense set up by Warroad could not be broken.

UMD's first goal was scored by Arliss Wright, when, coming down the ice, he let go with a 40-foot slap shot that the Laker goalie deflected with his elbow into the nets. The game was only 55 seconds old when the Bulldogs hit the red right.

On a similar slap shot, the Lakers evened the score on a goal by Sambo Fedoruk.

After this the Bulldogs' aggressive style of play looked as though it was just the formula that was needed for downing the Lakers. At one point in the second period with the score 4-2 in favor of the Bulldogs, the partisan home crowd of approximately 1,800 fans began to feel that victory was in the making. However, the Lakers realized the same thing and before the period had ended the score stood at 5-4 in favor of the Bulldogs.

This was a team victory, though the "Regina Twins," Harvey Flaman and Elmer Swartz, gave the crowd a very good showing for their last look at the senior co-captains.

Bulldog goalie Jerry Kleisinger had 38 saves to 35 for the Warroad goalie.

District Playoffs

Wednesday night saw the District 26 tournament opening in the Phy Ed building with eight teams vying for the right to represent District 26 in the regional tournament next week.

The first round saw Cloquet beating Two Harbors. At the present time the Proctor-East teams were still playing.

Thursday night matched Carlton against Brookston while Morgan Park tackled Denfeld. The four winners play tonight in the semi-finals and tomorrow night the two winners will battle for the District 26 crown.

BRETTO CLEARS PUCK—Defenseman Jim Bretto, Bulldog puckster, heads down-rink after repelling a Warroad attack. UMD opponents will be harrassed for three more years by the big red-head.

FORUM (continued)

To the editor:

"The general objectives of UMD publications are:

A. To present adequate coverage and interpretation of university life of significance primarily to students, but also to faculty, administration and parents.

B. To support university values, principles and objectives."

This statement of policy and objectives is contained in the Publications Board Report of Activities and Actions for the Academic Year 1956-57; it is not contained in the constitution. The only reference to such authority found in the Pub. Board constitution is the vague responsibility to "establish general policy."

"With special reference to the UMD Statesman it is proposed that the editor and staff seek:

1. To record and interpret matter of special interest and significance to the Duluth campus and the university.
2. To encourage worthy student activities and support in the news columns campus projects and/or activities deemed worthy by the editor.
3. To stimulate interest, constructive thought and publishable expression concerning current issues or problems.
4. To provide an outlet for expression of thought, by members of the STATESMAN staff and student body.
5. To express opinion through labeled editorial comment and to encourage support of warranted objectives and/or activities as evaluated under items A and B (of general objectives)."

The Publications Board has made no attempt this year to define "university values, principles and objectives." Neither has it evaluated UMD publications to see if they are presenting "adequate coverage and interpretations of university life." It is apparently, the feeling of the board that (1) there is no need to interfere because these general objectives are being met at the present time; and/or (2) it is not the role of the publications board to interfere.

(1) Is there no need for such control? Mr. Banovetz and others seem to feel that there is. The Pub. Board itself has received numerous complaints about coverage of campus activities, student government, etc., and so-called "negativism and cynicism" expressed in the STATESMAN for the past two years.

(2) If it is not the role of the Publications Board to define objectives and see that they are met (and opinion forwarded by Dr. Owens in last week's paper) then whose role is it? Or should such authority be forward at all? Might it be construed as undemocratic limitation of "freedom of the press?"

Personally, I consider it one of the chief duties of the Publications Board to select a staff capable of evaluating its own objectives as intelligently as the present staff is doing. Only in the event of an emergency should the board intervene.

Respectfully submitted,
 Ruth Kent,
 Publications Board President

Harvard Airing Education Needs

An hour-long "educational extravaganza" pointing up the character and the challenge of higher education in America will be aired at 8 p.m. Friday, March 28, in Duluth as part of a nation-wide radio hookup.

Entitled "The Case for the College," the program, sponsored by Harvard university, will be heard over station KDAL.

It will be the first time in the history of broadcasting that a college will sponsor a special network radio show.

Harvard President Nathan M. Pusey said in an announcement of the CBS show:

"We hope to make people aware of their responsibility as individuals to share to a greater degree in the support of higher education.

"We plan to present a picture in words and sounds of what a living college is, what happens in it, and why it is essential to a free nation."

While calling attention to the program at Harvard, the show will underline "the great needs of all American colleges," he said.

The Harvard glee club and band will be heard. Former Harvard students on the program will include Secretary of Defense Neil H. McElroy, James B. Conant, Senator John F. Kennedy, Devereux Josephs, Leonard Bernstein, Howard Lindsay, John Mason Brown and President Pusey.
